DIVISION OF INLAND FISHERIES

DIVISION OF INLAND FISHERIES PROGRAMS

PUBLIC FISHING AREAS

The N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission develops public fishing areas that are open to the public at no cost; however, use is generally restricted to the activities associated with fishing unless noted otherwise. Some of the activities prohibited at most public fishing areas include the mooring of boats and jet skis, swimming and camping.

COMMUNITY FISHING PROGRAM

The N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission, in cooperation with local governments, operates Community Fishing Program (CFP) sites that are open to the public, generally with regular opening and closing hours. A daily harvest limit of six forked-tail catfish is established at all sites. Fishing tackle can be borrowed through the Commission's Tackle Loaner Program at some sites. Most CFP sites are located in city- or county-owned parks with restrooms and picnicking facilities, as well as other recreational opportunities, available. Currently, there are more than 45 CFP sites across the state.

TACKLE LOANER PROGRAM

Fishing equipment, usually rods and spin cast reels, can be borrowed or checked-out for free at many of the Community Fishing Program (CFP) sites and at other locations across the state. Anglers under age 16 receive free terminal tackle (including hooks, sinkers, bobbers, line and fish stringers) in a tackle box that they may keep. A few CFP and Tackle Loaner Program sites have adaptive fishing tackle, which accommodates a wide range of physical disabilities and includes rod harnesses and holders, left- and-right-handed fishing gloves, electric reels and casting devices.

N.C. ANGLER RECOGNITION PROGRAM

Any angler who catches a fish meeting specific size requirements can apply to have the catch recognized as a trophy fish through the North Carolina Angler Recognition Program (NCARP). Qualification does not require harvesting the fish. This program provides recognition to anglers who catch trophy-sized fish that are not large enough to qualify as a state record fish. See the table on page 43 for current NCARP minimum weight and length requirements. Youth age 15 and younger can apply for a Youth NCARP certificate for any of these fishes. Minimum length and weight requirements are waived.

Fish management in North Carolina is supported by the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program, which utilizes state fishing license money and federal grant funds derived from federal excise taxes on fishing equipment and motorboat fuels.

FISHING ACCESS

for the Coastal Region of North Carolina

NORTH CAROLINA WILDLIFE RESOURCES COMMISSION
DIVISION OF INLAND FISHERIES

The projects highlighted in this publication were made possible because anglers and boaters pay special federal excise taxes and import duties on fishing equipment and motorboat fuels. The N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission receives a share of these federal monies, which are matched with 25 percent state or other non-federal money and invested in important fishing and boating projects across the state. Without your support for the Federal Aid in Sport Fish Restoration Program, the agency's ability to provide fishing and boating opportunities in North Carolina could be curtailed severely.

Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the U.S. Department of the Interior and its bureaus prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, age or sex (in educational programs). If you believe that you have been discriminated against in any program, activity or facility, or if you desire further information, please write to: Equal Employment Officer, 1703 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, N.C. 27699-1703; or call (919)707-0101.

Your purchase of fishing equipment and motor boat fuels supports Sport Fish Restoration and boating access facilities.

INTRODUCTION

Public waters in eastern North Carolina provide good fishing for many species. Among the most popular are striped bass, American and hickory shad, largemouth bass, crappie, assorted sunfishes (reardear, redbreast, bluegill, warmouth and pumpkinseed), white and yellow perch, and channel, blue, white and flathead catfishes.

The sites listed in this publication are found in the Coastal Region (see the map on pages 6,7). Sites are listed alphabetically by county then by water body. Sites include:

- Community Fishing Program sites located primarily in city- or county-owned parks
- Public Fishing Areas owned by the Wildlife Resources Commission
- Boating Access Areas owned by the Wildlife Resources Commission
- Public Fishing Access Areas owned and/or maintained by entities other than the Wildlife Resources Commission. Areas that include a small fee are noted in the “More Info” section.

Listed sites do not include for-profit entities, such as marinas.

Information for each site is presented in a table that includes the categories below:

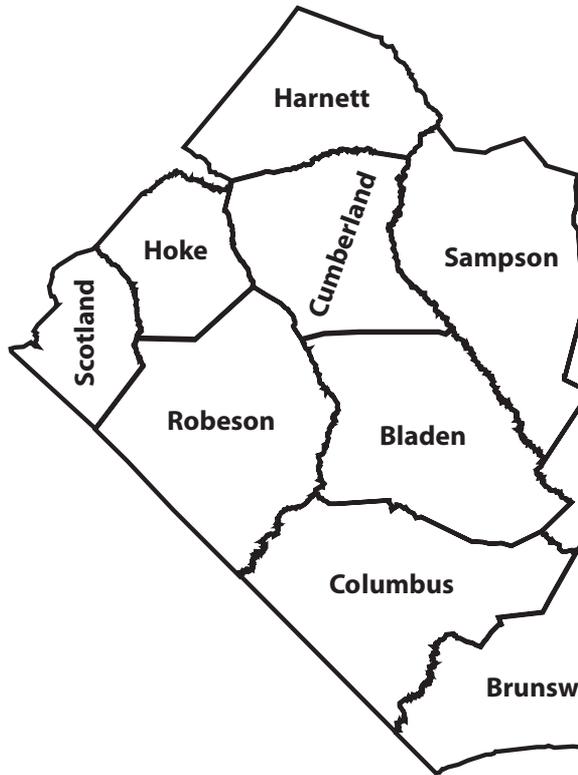

- Site name and the entity that owns or maintains the site;
- Directions to the site;
- More information, including universally accessible amenities (if applicable), loaner tackle (if applicable), type of access (boat, canoe, shoreline), and fishery present.

For the latest freshwater fishing regulations, including seasons, size limits and daily harvest limits, visit ncwildlife.org. For the latest saltwater fishing regulations, visit the N.C. Division of Marine Fisheries website, ncfisheries.net.

Flathead Catfish Fishing Tips

Young flatheads feed primarily on aquatic insects, while adults feed almost entirely on fish and crayfish. Adult flatheads are structure-oriented, so fish for them in and around submerged logs, drift piles, standing timber and on the downstream end of an outside bend in the river with plenty of deep water.

It is best to use only live or freshly cut bait, especially to catch a very large flathead. Because of the size and strength of flatheads, heavy duty tackle and strong line are mandatory.

Proper Catch-and-Release Techniques

With careful planning, fishing and handling methods, catch-and-release anglers can greatly increase the survival rate of hooked fish by following the guidelines below:

Handling and Releasing Fish

- Keep the amount of handling to a minimum and keep fish in the water, if possible.
- Use landing nets only when necessary; these nets should be made of knotless nylon or rubber.
- Do not allow the fish to thrash around. If you must handle it, use wet gloves or a wet rag.
- A fish that does not swim away can be resuscitated by moving it back and forth in the water to force water through its gills.

Removing the Hook

- Carefully, but quickly, remove hooks using a dehooker, needle-nose pliers or forceps.
- Whenever possible remove hooks in the throat or gut using a dehooker.
- Cut the line if you cannot carefully or quickly remove hooks.
