

COUNTY FOX HARVEST SEASONS
LEGISLATED BY THE
NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Updated: September 11th, 2020

NORTH CAROLINA WILDLIFE RESOURCES COMMISSION

“How do I find out if I can hunt or trap foxes in my county?”

The state law regarding foxes, coupled with the diversity of local laws, has resulted in 27 fox hunting seasons with weapons in 89 counties, and 23 fox trapping seasons in 55 counties.

This document was created to help guide sportsmen on the legal aspects of taking foxes.

The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission (WRC) has very limited authority to regulate fox hunting and trapping seasons. Only the General Assembly has the authority to allow fox trapping in a county through passage of a local law. The North Carolina General Assembly (NCGA) has elected to classify foxes only as a game animals rather than game and furbearers as bobcat, opossum and raccoon are designated (§ 113 291.4). This classification means that the WRC may not allow foxes to be taken by trapping during regular trapping seasons.

There are numerous session laws that have been approved by the NCGA relating to foxes. Many of these laws passed by the NCGA apply only to a specific county, counties or parts of counties and generally are referred to as “local laws”. The number and complexity of the “local laws” enacted by the NCGA over the past 40 years which allow the taking of foxes with weapons and traps make them unsuitable to include in the annual regulations digest, thus this separate document was created.

Tagging Requirements for both Hunters and Trappers

Fox Tags: It is unlawful to buy, sell, barter, trade, or otherwise transfer possession or ownership of the carcass or pelt of any fox without having affixed to such carcass or pelt an individual fox tag. To purchase fox tags, please call 1-888-248-6834.

Fox Tag Exemption: Licensed trappers are exempt from tagging requirements if live-trapped foxes are trapped for purpose of sale to licensed controlled fox hunting preserves.

A fox tag or tags must be procured before taking foxes by any method designed to kill foxes or when the intent is to harvest foxes in the following counties:

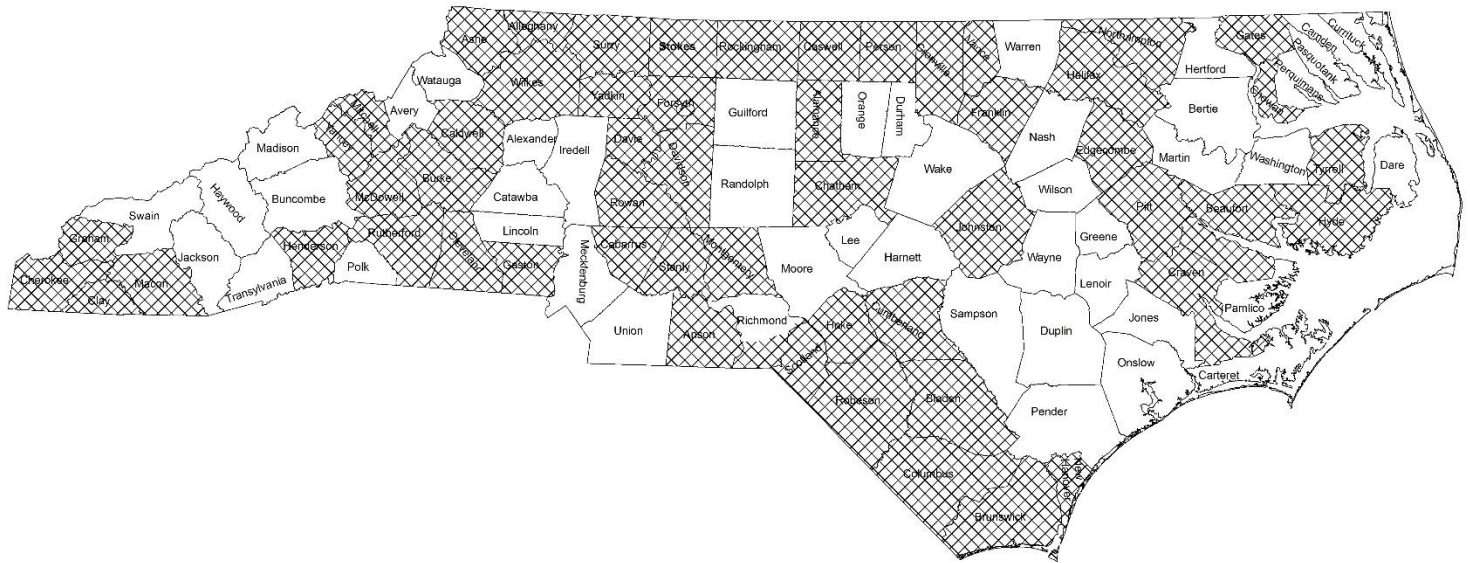

- Clay
- Graham
- Henderson
- Macon
- Tyrrell

Trappers are exempt from fox tagging requirements in the following 25 counties/areas:

A map of North Carolina showing its 100 counties. Ten counties are highlighted in gray: Madison, Surry, Stokes, Alleghany, Caswell, Alamance, Orange, and Duplin. The highlighted counties are distributed across the state, with Madison in the west, Surry and Stokes in the north-central region, Alleghany and Caswell in the northeast, Alamance and Orange in the central region, and Duplin in the southeast.

It is also legal to trap coyotes during any fox-trapping season established by statute or by local law, using methods described in statute, even when those fox-trapping seasons open prior to and extend after the regulated trapping seasons.

All counties in North Carolina are listed in this table and are in alphabetical order. Due to space constraints in this table, please see general listings on page 12 for specific stipulations for your county.
